TEMPORARY CHECK OF THE RUSSIANS

Desperate Fight Six Miles North of Liaoyang---Not Regarded by Russian War Office as General Engagement.

Mukden, Oct. 11.—The Japanese resumed the offensive yesterday and the Russians retreated across the Sandepu [illegible] Liaoyang line. This morning they occupied the Sandepu and a desperate fight is now in progress on a wide front to the east.

Mukden, Oct. 11.—5 p. m.—A Russian correspondent of the Associated Press telegraphs as follows:

It has cost a number of the wounded who have been sent back from the front to [illegible] to prevent [illegible] from [illegible] but the [illegible] were those [illegible] when he [illegible] retreating. Every one is confident and the men are all anxious to finish the war in order to get back home. None of them, however, has the idea of going home except as victors. We have enough troops and the grim determination of the officers and men is to wipe out the Japanese."

NO GENERAL ENGAGEMENT.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 12.—5 a. m.—Despite fighting north of Tatse resulting in a temporary check of General Kuropatkin's advance guard, of which the Associated Press correspondent at Mukden telegraphed on this point, is not regarded at the war office as indicating a general engagement. The latest official advices indicating the operations of the various corps show that the whole army is not yet in line of battle.

The present engagement may therefore be regarded as the result of a counter attack with an enterprising foe. It can hardly be supposed that Kuropatkin, whose superiority in numbers it is held here, is bound soon-er or later to compel the Japanese to fall back upon their strong positions.

The Strategic Point.

Discussing points in the current ground [illegible] as being the strategic [illegible] Liaoyang [illegible] the most weighty [illegible] to the Japanese to hasten their attack [illegible] upon the position [illegible] to this course because the [illegible] northward and hence [illegible] preparations [illegible] the [illegible] the [illegible] no longer [illegible] of [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] Chinese and Japanese [illegible] of [illegible] during the winter, and with this in view the [illegible] Liaoyang and of the armies [illegible] ence. The Yentai [illegible] is [illegible] to prevent [illegible] Marshal Oyama [illegible] this [illegible] of all evils.

Kuropatkin's Problem.

The present [illegible] General Kuropatkin in the immediate future is the capture of the northern heights only [illegible] this [illegible] where the Japanese [illegible] the advantage of [illegible] to hold [illegible] and [illegible] them [illegible] perfectly [illegible] mountain guns. The Russian [illegible] undoubtedly [illegible] of the difficulties of the task before him and is confident of his ability to overcome them. If [illegible] Japanese possessed an army of half a million men he could leave a sufficient force to [illegible] while he moved with [illegible] to extend the eastern and [illegible] western flanks. This is considered by the best informed circles of the war office to be impracticable with the numbers now composing General Kuropatkin's army, and a frontal advance in the only alternative. Operations, however, are likely to be assisted by future [illegible] on the right and left. The Japanese probably will [illegible] [illegible] until both [illegible] become involved in a [illegible] struggle.

BRITISH DISCUSSION OF RUSSIAN FORWARD MOVEMENT

London, Oct. 11.—The British [illegible] is busily occupied in discussing the [illegible] of General Kuropatkin's [illegible] movement. Even Reynolds, the Japanese [illegible] correspondent, refers to it as [illegible] and the Russian Military Attache in London, General Count Lamsdorff, [illegible] by the [illegible] Japanese [illegible] English press on General Kuropatkin's proclamation.

Even the suggestion of an initiative during the present campaign must benefit the Russian forces. If there is any more belief that General Kuropatkin intends a flight than I believe that Marshal Oyama's lines of communication [illegible] to defend, the situation [illegible] rapidly changing, affording the [illegible] opportunity, has been [illegible] and never [illegible] more [illegible] was due to restore the [illegible] of its constantly [illegible] lines of communication. He must have had [illegible] difficulty in bringing up sufficient supplies and ammunition for his large army, which was greatly depleted after the battle of Liaoyang. If he had been ready, Oyama would doubtless have taken that advantage which belongs to all warfare to the aggressor and attacked Kuropatkin at Mukden. It is a point in Kuropatkin's favor that he was ready, or even thought he was ready, to move.

About a week from now there ought to be a decisive engagement and it may be the opening of a battle which will make the military authorities will make a [illegible] but quite [illegible] will [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Special to the Gazette.

St. Louis, Oct. 11.—The Colorado mining exhibit has been awarded first prize at the World's fair. This collection is valued at $250,000.

This award, in addition to the gold medal awarded to the Van Briggle pottery of Colorado Springs, and the first prize awarded to the Colorado agricultural exhibit last week makes a wonderful record for the Centennial state.

FIVE YEARS IN THE PENITENTIARY

J. J. KINGSBURY PROMPTLY CONVICTED BY JURY AND RETURNING CASE CLOSELY IN CRIPPLE CREEK.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 11.—One of the most revolting cases in the history of the district was on trial today before Judge Irwin, known as the people vs. J. J. Kingsbury, in which the defendant was charged with an unnatural crime, the victim being his own sister. The case was closed shortly after 2 o'clock and the jury, after a few minutes deliberation, brought in a verdict of guilty. Judge Irwin immediately imposed a sentence of from four years and seven months to five years in the penitentiary. In pronouncing sentence the court made a scathing address to the prisoner.

JOHN BAKER STRUCK ON THE HEAD BY A DESCENDING CAGE—SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Special to the Gazette.

Victor, Oct. 12.—John Baker narrowly escaped having the top of his head taken off by the cage in the El Paso mine this afternoon. He is now at his home in this city suffering from a gash from six to eight inches in length across the top of his head.

Shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon a cage load of miners was being taken down into the workings of the mine and stopped to allow Baker to get on and go down to one of the lower levels where he was working. Not thinking that the cage was intended to ride on, Baker stepped on to the cage and [illegible]

Brave Women

Women's delicate nerves suffer more than men, so as much suffering, that is a useless one, comes to them. They continue to fulfill the various household and social duties, and yet they do—and suffer.

It is because they are brave.

As a rule they understand the nature of their complaint, but, owing to the wonderful influence their delicate nerves have upon their general health.

They are not sufficiently impressed with the fact that all their ills are directly traceable to weakened nerves.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

has been wonderfully successful in restoring the nerves and curing all nervous diseases and loss of vitality.

Thousands of delicate, weakly ladies have gained their health and vigor by its use, and the thoughtful mostly themselves by keeping their nervous system strong and vigorous by its use.

Every thin, nervous woman, miserable and wretched, I am now receiving good health and it is all traceable to your splendid medicine, Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine."—MRS. MAUD R. SPRINGER, Philadelphia, Pa. Money back if first bottle fails to benefit.

AN OLD RELIC IN THE PARADE

Pueblo Had Historic Piece of Timber Here Yesterday.

WAS 380 YEARS OF AGE

OLD UNION AVENUE TREE UNDER WHICH BUFFALO BILL AND OTHER FRONTIERSMEN CAMPED.

Among the most interesting floats in the parade was that from Valley engine No. 25 of Pueblo. The float carried logs and joined the procession near the Antlers hotel. The thing that made this float most interesting was the relic of the historic old tree of Union avenue.

This log, which is about four feet and 11 inches in width, is highly prized by Pueblo and is never allowed to leave the Mineral Palace in that city. Valley engine, however, secured permission to bring it along to Colorado Springs on the occasion to show the fraternal spirit that exists between the two cities, as only for such an occasion and so Colorado Springs that they would allow it to go out. The old tree has quite a history. When it was cut down in 1858, the rings showed its age to be 380 years. Buffalo Bill, Wild Bill and other famous frontier scouts camped under its sheltering branches in the early days and under it the Indians held many pow-wows. Fourteen people are known to have been hung from one limb of this tree, and 37 to have been massacred under it by the Indians. It stood for a long time in the center of Union avenue, and was a distinguishing mark in the city.

In addition to this, the float carried the most valuable Woodman banner in this jurisdiction. It cost $1,000 and is most prized by workingmen. Two other banners on the float read: "The W. of W. Camp of Pueblo Bring Greeting to Colorado Springs and Vicinity"; "W. O. W. Membership in Pueblo, 2,000." "Our Campaign Starts October 1st—Our Vote." On the rear was the sign, "A Sample of Timber Grown in Pueblo."

Accompanying the float was the degree team of 32 members from Valley camp and John H. Shaw and W. M. Dewees, clerk of the camp. The degree corps from Camp No. 2 of Pueblo was also in the parade.

The special points taken by the Pueblo Woodmen to make a good showing in the big festival here show the friendly and fraternal spirit that exists between the two cities.

for me to say at this time that we accept this in the same kindly spirit in which it is given, and we assure you, as I have already stated, that the hostilities extended shall not be stayed."

Marched to Music.

Then the parade reformed on the north side of the park and with a flourish of trumpets, according to the march through the city, going west to Tejon street, south to Cucharas, west to Cascade, north on Cascade to Huerfano and west to the [illegible] then on foot took a special Rio Grande train to Colorado City, but there in carriages and mounted on burros and horses marched over.

At Second street and Colorado avenue the parade reformed and after a [illegible] key from Mayor Henry Eisenhuth, the parade was continued down Colorado avenue to Eighth street, where those on foot again broke ranks and took the train for Manitou, while the mounted and others continued their ride to that beautiful resort town.

At the Soda Springs in Manitou, the parade disbanded and a basket lunch was enjoyed in the park. Mayor E. E. Nichols, Jr., formally threw open the gates of the city to the visitors and they took possession at once.

After the lunch the drill teams and candidates and others formed in line again and began the [illegible] for the [illegible] positions which were to be awarded in the evening parade.

DOLLIVER AT PUEBLO

GREAT REPUBLICAN RALLY IN THE OPERA HOUSE COLORADO LEFT TO SETTLE HER OWN LOCAL QUESTIONS.

Pueblo, Oct. 11.—Senator J. F. Dolliver, of Iowa, who has recently been touring the west with Senator Fairbanks, Republican nominee for vice president, was the principal speaker at a Republican rally held at the Grand Opera house here tonight. A magnificent audience greeted the distinguished orator, who spoke for more than two hours on the national issues of the present campaign, particularly as they bear on Colorado. In a few words the speaker stated that he would not discuss the county and state issues, being not familiar with them, but that he thought well enough of the people of the state to believe that they are able to settle their local questions without interference or advice from the outside.

The speaker dealt principally with the record of the Republican party, the tariff, the trusts and the policy of expansion of past campaigns.

He closed his address with a magnificent eulogy of the late President McKinley and President Roosevelt. Every courtesy was extended the distinguished speaker by the citizens and during his stay in the city tomorrow he will be shown the principal places of interest. The Young Men's Republican club acted as an escort of honor, headed by a band, from the hotel to the opera house. Senator Dolliver leaves at 9 o'clock tomorrow for Denver.

ITALIAN ELECTION A BITTER CONTEST

SOCIALISTS, REVOLUTIONISTS AND ANARCHIST WILL TRY TO GET CONTROL OF CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES

Paris, Oct. 11.—The Temps this afternoon publishes a dispatch from Rome saying that the election for members of the chamber of deputies, would, be bitterly contested, as the issue is the recent revolutionary movement provoked by Socialists and anarchists. The defenders of the existing institutions are seeking to show the danger confronting the country if the policy of the revolutionists is approved.

The Italian official organ announces that the government will not oppose any candidate having monarchial tendencies and will support even Conservatives in order to concentrate all their efforts against the Socialists, Republicans and anarchists.

Many candidates are already announced. The Socialists will present about 300 candidates, including all the leaders of the recent outbreaks and ten officials of the Socialist and anarchist organizations.

The government is taking all the necessary measures to preserve order. The garrisons in the principal Socialist centers have been reinforced.

MAROONED ON ISLAND

Four Lumbermen and Keep Position With Provisions Enough for Only Ten Days.

Singapore, Oct. 11.—Marooned on a small island for the fifth day with provisions for only ten days, two Canadian lumbermen and two Americans, the Assistant Commissioner of Customs, with a party of Malays, left Singapore on the steamer Sultan, with provisions and water for a month, to relieve the party. The steamer will reach the island on October 3 the provisions will have arrived in ten days.

The island is about [illegible] miles from Singapore. The party left Singapore on September 1 in two launches and a native boat to cut timber. The launches were separated from the native boat in a storm and have not been heard from since. The native boat reached the island with the provisions and the men have been cutting timber. The launches will probably arrive in ten days.

SMALL STEAMER LOST

Wrecked Off Northern Coast of Prince Edward Island with Loss of 19 Lives.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 11.—News reached here today of the wreck of the little steamer Cell, of New London, Prince Edward Island, on the [illegible] gale, with the loss, it is believed, of all on board, 19 souls, of whom 14 were passengers, all men. Among those on the steamer was the son of John Foster, of this city, one of the principal owners. The craft was a new vessel and had been, during the last six months, plying between New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island ports.

The steamer was bound from Tracadie, far up in northern New Brunswick, to New London. Last Saturday's storm raged with great severity in the gulf of St. Lawrence, blowing directly on the northern shore of Prince Edward Island. The harbor of New London is a difficult one to enter and though the reports of the wreck are meager, it is believed that the little vessel was caught in the gulf by the storm and was either thrown on the ledges at the entrance of the harbor or foundered a short distance off the shore.

No. 11 Cedar Terrace,
West Fairmount, Ark., April 18, 1903.

When I was first married I found that my strength and health were gradually diminishing. I [illegible] at times and irritable, and was in bed a week each month two days of every month, and was [illegible] to work.

My husband had the best physicians for me and I used his medicine for nearly four months, but I gradually grew worse, had less strength, and finally I was unable to leave my bed at all.

A friend who was calling on me brought me a bottle of Wine of Cardui and was so loud in its praise that I told her that I would take it to please her.

I was surprised and pleased that before I had used the bottle I really felt better, so I kept on using it. Eight bottles brought back my lost health and strength, and I have not had a [illegible] day in six years.

THE ELKTON MAY RESUME DIVIDENDS

Condition Both of Ore Bodies and Company Treasury Is Better Than for Over a Year Past.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 11.—It was learned today that resumption of dividends is very probable on the Elkton property, as it is a well-known fact that the conditions of the mine are better at the present time than for a year or more past. At the last meeting of the company, it was given out by the officers of the company that it was the intention of the directors to resume dividends as soon as the plant of machinery is installed, when they are now working to advantage, and the profits are extremely large for another 100 feet shipper is to be opened up branched off.

The ore which was given by the manager of the property, the United Gold Mines Company, is considered one of the best from the standpoint of grade in the district as it runs for the width of from 3 to 4½ feet, which

UNEVEN CLOSE IN STOCK MARKET

BEST PRICES NOT FULLY MAINTAINED IN SPITE OF LATE BIDDING UP OF THE SOUTHERN GROUP.

New York, Oct. 11.—The stock market once more retrieved itself from a temporary setback and resumed the advance. The rise was not even and not entirely comprehensive, the greater part of the trading and the movement being congested in a few prominent stocks. The firmness in the rest of the market was due largely to sympathy with the few strong stocks, but the hardness of the market was none the less decidedly demonstrated.

The opening response to the generally favorable report was distinguishing, but decreased pressure of the bear New York Central and whose over the pessimistic estimates although [illegible] authority to the contrary, was sufficient to [illegible] dence in a prosperous outcome for the harvests upon which final bull [illegible] stocks were moved to take advantage of the showing to sell. The sellers showed little disposition to make price concessions however, and the prices diminished as prices receded. Even [illegible] a reflection of estimates of [illegible] two billion bushel crop, or [illegible] the authorities, whose first opinion [illegible] had impressed the financial community beyond a little effect in the face of the [illegible] from the government's figures of [illegible] bushels or more. The significance of this showing in view of the price level at which corn is held proved effective in imparting [illegible] strength to the grangers and resulted in the large buying and substantial advances in Union Pacific, Atchison and St. Paul.

The Gould southwesterns were inclined to hang back apparently affected by yesterday's accident on the Missouri Pacific and owing to dissatisfaction with the earnings statement contained in the yearly report of the Wabash. United States Steel was subjected to early pressure and then rallied, but met sufficient offerings at yesterday's high prices to stop its advance. New York Central's 2½ point advance was of only moderate influence on other eastern railroads. Reading was said to realize, and Erie was hurt by consideration of its annual report.

The event of the day in the world's financial markets was the advance from four to five per cent of the discount rate of the Imperial bank of Germany, after having maintained the former rate since June, 1903. Foreign exchange hardened here and the price of gold was advanced. The action of the German bank is not clearly understood and led to surmises that another Russian loan is being negotiated for. Our stock market closed somewhat irregular and with best prices not fully maintained in spite of a late bidding up of the southern group.

Bonds held firm. Total sales par value, $5,570,000.

STRONG CLOSE; EARLY WEAKNESS

TRADERS IN WHEAT BECAME CONVINCED THAT THE MARKET HAD BEEN HEAVILY OVERSOLD—CORN WEAK

Chicago, Oct. 11.—The government estimate of 50,000,000 bushels as the total yield of wheat for the United States had a weakening influence on speculative trading in the wheat pit at the opening. Initial quotations on December were ½ to ⅝ lower, at $1.08 to $1.08¼. May was down ½@¾c to 94¾@95c, at $1.05¾ to $1.06¾. There was heavy liquidation of December, causing a rapid decline, the price dropping to $1.07⅝ within the first half hour. May weakened in sympathy to $1.04¾. Other factors that contributed to the selling pressure were [illegible] and continued liberal receipts in the northwest. [illegible] the weather map [illegible] ported favorable to the free movement of the crop. For a time the selling was quite general, commission houses and outsiders [illegible] orders, the effect of which added to the weakness. Later in the day the demand improved considerably, traders apparently [illegible] the impression that the market had been heavily oversold. Shorts covered freely and bullish news caused a sharp recovery. December sold at $1.09¾, closing ¾ up at $1.09. May closed ⅝ higher at $1.05⅝.

Corn was weak as a result of profit-taking encouraged by a bearish government crop report. December closed ¼ lower, at 45¾c.

Oats were very weak on the bearish government crop report. December closed at 3½, a loss of ⅝.

Provisions were weak early, but became steady on support from packers. At the close January pork and lard were unchanged, and ribs were off 2½c.

The leading futures ranged as follows:

ON THE SAFETY OF OVER EATING.

The Rule of Choosing the Lesser of Two Evils Applies to the Way You Eat.

I want to know if a man is to know when he has had enough.

The Pilgrim Fathers, I believe, had a always rise from the table feeling as if you could eat some more.

But the question is, how much more? Just when to stop?

That's the point.

The rule is wrong, because it's no rule at all.

It is [illegible] and unscientific.

It is likely to lead to the dangerous habit of eating too little.

[illegible] eating too little [illegible] little which amounts to the same thing—is the cause of nine-tenths of the diseases from which humanity suffers today.

What is disease?

It is simply uneven balance between waste and repair.

Some organ lacks strength to carry on the general work for which it was created.

Where shall it find the strength it lacks in drugs?

Too absurd a question, NO!

Either the drug becomes a hopeless drug fiend.

No, in fact.

But, you say, I eat plenty of good food, every day.

True, dear friend, but you don't digest it.

Admitted, suggested, it must be so.

But to make food digest—

The great thing about Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is that they actually digest food, [illegible] digestive organs.

They contain no [illegible] but [illegible] use in digestive weakness.

They contain [illegible] digestive principles [illegible] digestive ferments [illegible] digestive [illegible] digestive [illegible] digestive
